The judgement

The judge listened. loan told his story. Then Stefan told his story. The judge then asked Stefan: „So you are not content?“ Stefan answered: „No, we should divide it equally.“ The judge said: „Stefan, take one coin and give it to loan. This way, it will be fair.“ Stefan, shocked and confused, asked the judge for an explanation. „How is this justice?“ „You are wrong.“ The judge said. „You had 2 loaves. loan had 3. The two of you had 5 loaves in total. There were 3 people, and everybody ate the same amount.“ Stefan agreed. The judge continued: „Good. Let’s clear it up then. Let’s say: Each bread was divided into 3 parts. How many pieces did you have?“ „I had 6.“ „How many pieces did loan have?“ „He had 9. We had 15 pieces in total, and there were 3 men to eat it.“ „So one person ate 5 pieces of bread. You had 6 and you ate 5. loan had 9, and He ate 5. The stranger ate also 5. When you ate your part, you had 1 loaf left, while loan had 4 loaves left.“ The judge went on. „So you get 1 coin, and loan gets 4 coins.“ In the end, Stefan gave loan 1 coin. I wish every judge would be so fair and honest.
