THE QUEEN'S CROQUET GROUND

Alice entered the garden and met three gardeners in the shape of playing cards painting the white roses red. Just then, the Queen arrives and asks Alice who she is, but she makes the Queen angry by making a rude remark. The Queen shouts 'Off with her head!' but Alice replies that this is nonsense and the Queen is silent. She notices what the gardeners have been doing and orders their beheading. They are saved by Alice who hides them in a flowerpot.

The Queen invites Alice to play croquet. The croquet ground is ridged, the croquet balls are live hedgehogs, and the mallets are live flamingos. Everyone is playing without waiting for their turns, quarrelling, and fighting for the hedgehogs. All this makes the Queen furious and she constantly orders the beheading of people.

The Cheshire Cat appears and Alice starts complaining. The Queen orders its decapitation, but the executioner and the King cannot agree on how to execute the Cheshire Cat because they only see a head with no body. Alice tells them that they should ask the Duchess about it. The Cheshire Cat starts fading and when the Duchess arrives he has completely vanished.
