

DER KAMPFPLAN

|                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                             |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|  Die Burschen ausder Paulstraße      |  bereiteten sich           |  auf einen Kampfvor.                  |                                                                                                                             |
|  Boka,                                   |  fertigte einenPlan. |  Er erzählte denBurschen darüber.    |  Sie bildetenDreiergruppen. |
|  Sie öffnen die Tore                    |  für denRothemden.  |  Sie bombardierensie                |  mit Sand.                      |
|  Sie tun so, alswürden sie rennen. |  Sie folgten ihnen.      |  An der Sägewürden siestoppen. |  Gewinnen.                      |
|  Die Burschen waren                     |  glücklich,              |  sie warfen ihreHüte in die Luft.    |                                                                                                                             |