THE HARD-WORKING GIRL'S JOURNEY

Once upon a time there was an old man and an old woman. The old man had a daughter. His wife, the old woman also had a daughter. The old woman's daughter was lazy and mean at heart. But the old man's daughter was beautiful, hardworking, obedient and kind-hearted. The old woman was always telling the old man that his daughter didn't listen to her, she was lazy and that is why he had to send her away. One day, the old man, being very upset by what the old woman told him, called the daughter and said: "My dear daughter, the old lady told me that you don't listen to her, you are bad and that is why you can't live in this house anymore. So go out into the world. But not before giving you my fatherly advice: Wherever you are, be good and hardworking."

The poor girl kissed her father's hand and set off into the big world.

While on her way, a sickly, skinny little dog came out ahead of her. The puppy begged her: "Beautiful and hardworking girl, have mercy on me and help me to get well, for I will come to your help when you need me." The girl felt sorry for the dog, washed it and took good care of it. Then she went on her way, thankful in her heart that she could do a good deed.

She didn't walk long and saw a beautiful flowering pear tree, but full of caterpillars everywhere. The tree saw the girl and asked her: "Beautiful and hardworking girl, have pity on me and help me to get rid of the caterpillars so that I will come to your help when you need me." The girl, hardworking as she was, cleaned the pear tree of the dryness and caterpillars with great care and then went on her way. Not long after, she saw a deserted and dirty well.

The well, as she saw her, begged her: “Beautiful and hardworking girl, have pity on me and clean me, for I will come to your help when you need me.” The girl cleaned the well, then went on.

Then she came upon an unlit furnace, ready to go to waste. The furnace, when it saw her, immediately spoke to her and asked her: “Beautiful and hardworking girl, have pity on me, stick me and paint me that I will come to your help when you need me.” The girl rolled up her sleeves and fixed the oven.
