1. Place the paper vertically in front of you and fold it in half (short side in half). Fold the top corners towards the centre line and fold over.
2. Fold the shape once more in the middle on each side, like a book.
3. Fold the wings of the plane.

Some ideas – Make a paper airplane

Wide-body aircraft

1. Place the paper vertically in front of you and fold it in half (along the shorter side).
2. Bend the top corners to the centre line and smooth the bend properly.
3. Fold in the top corners. Fold both top corners to the centre line as in step 2.
4. Fold down the previous tip, then repeat step 2.
5. Bend up the overhanging triangle.
6. Turn the aircraft so that the small nose from step 5 is on the "belly" of the aircraft.
7. Bend the wings of the aircraft.
8. Let's do a little folding at the end.
9. Finally, cut out the wings and bend them upwards.

Who sits where on the plane? Play a game.

The aircraft rows are numbered and the seats are lettered. The first element of the pair is always the row and the second element is always the seat.

Radar – Where are the planes? – answer the questions.
