SLAVE ANTS THAT THINK THEY ARE ELEPHANTS

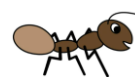

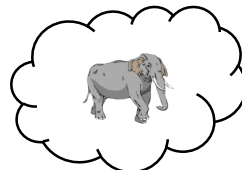

The Sultan of Elephants wonders if the Red Bearded Lane Ant is dead.

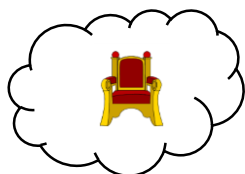

He fears that one day he will come back and the ants will rebel.

The Sultan of Elephants and Ulukepez unite and make a plan.

They try to make ants think they are elephants.

He asks the ants to make a big blue diamond throne.

All the ants work for the sultan of elephants and continue to build the palace.

The ants finish the palace and the throne.

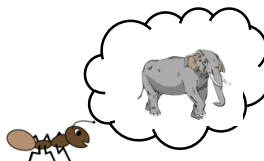

The sultan of elephants is delighted.

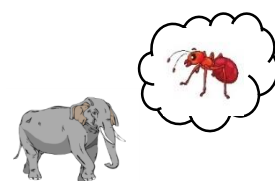

The sultan of elephants praises ants at the opening of his palace.

He tells the ants that they are descended from elephants.

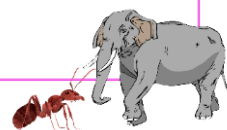

He tells them that if they work harder they can become real elephants.

He says that if anyone brings the Red Bearded Lane Ant, he will give him food.

SLAVE ANTS THAT THINK THEY ARE ELEPHANTS

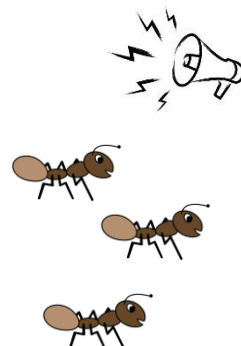

The sultan of elephants and ulukepez want to prevent ants from thinking logically.

They try to make ants forget who they are and think they are elephants.

For 24 hours they announce with bugles that the ants are elephants.

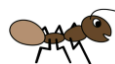

The ants get used to it day by day.

Elephant schools are opened and ants are trained there.

Radios, televisions, newspapers brainwash ants.

So many ants grow up thinking they are elephants.
