

ODYSSEUS AND THE CYCLOPS

The Sheep

 The Cyclops is lost in his cave	 But he eventually finds his bearings	 He locates the exit	 He removes the rock from the entrance to enjoy the fresh air
 Polyphemus only thinks about taking revenge	 Odysseus, on the other hand, continues with his plan	 He and his men hide under the animals	 In the morning, the animals want to go out
 Polyphemus realizes it's morning	 He lets out his animals, not noticing the Greeks	 Odysseus and his men are finally free	 And set off again
